

Madeleine Freeman

Holocaust

We were all alone, no one to lean on,
People crying, losing their life.
Shaking we walked along the cold burning road,
Thinking, thinking, what do we do now....

Holocaust, never to be forgotten,
Taking the weight of when we meet our end.
Shouting, screaming to be heard for miles away,
What do we do now?

Waiting and wondering to be told what to do next,
We hold our hands together and pray.
We are all together, what is our fate,
Thinking, thinking, what do we do now....

Holocaust, never to be forgotten,
Taking the weight of when we meet our end.
Shouting, screaming to be heard for miles away,
What do we do now?

We look up to the sky,
Take our last breath,
Ready to share our fate,
Thinking, thinking, what do we do now....

Holocaust, never to be forgotten,
Taking the weight of when we meet our end.
Shouting, screaming to be heard for miles away,
What do we do now?

Listen to us, commemorate us,
We need to be remembered,
Don't forget us....

Holocaust, never to be forgotten,
Taking the weight of when we meet our end.
Shouting, screaming to be heard for miles away,
What do we do now?

Listen to us, out in the other world, we are not aliens...!